NUMBER 51

10th District Convention Called For August 22.

The Republican Committee for the Tenth Congressional District met at Winchester on Wednesday morning, pursuant to the call of Hon. R. H. Wills, chairman of the Committee, for the purpose of selecting the time, place and manner of choosing a nominee of the Republican party for Congress from the Tenth District. A convention was called to meet at Pikeville, August 22, and county mass conventions were ordered held August 18 to select delegates.

The only announced candidate for the nomination as yet is Judge H. Clay McKee, of Mt. Sterling, who was present at the committee meeting.

Law and Order Men Organize in Mercer.

At Harrodsburg, Ky., on Thursday about forty citizens met at the Court House and organized "The Law and Order League of Mercer County." J. T. Wilson was elected President, Judge Ben F. Roach Vice-President, E. Howard Davis Secretary and Frank P. James Treasurer. A committee was appointed to canvass the county and town for members. The committee appointed to confer with the saloon keepers relative to the saloon closing at once could not come to an agreement, so the saloons will continue to operate until the first of January.

Moral Principle Growing in Americans.

It is the fashion nowadays to deplore the general want of moral principle and to lament the decline of old-fashioned honesty.

But, really, how about this old-fashioned honesty?

It is always easy to see a saint in a dead relative, just as it is easy to see a statesman in a dead politician. Grandfather's virtues, like grandfather's clocks, may be badge of respectability, but in our own day there are not always in good running order.

The world in which old-fashioned honesty lived was singularly uncomplicated. Smith knew Jones and Jones knew Smith, and if the one did not cheat the other there was every chance that each would die in the odor of respectability. Individualism set the limits to old-fashioned honesty.

We need this individualistic honesty today, and we have it. But we need today a very much bigger sort of honesty—a honesty which sees that our obligations are set not alone by our relations with each other, but also by our relations with municipalities and states with a nation and a world. We might call it social honesty.

Men have gone down to their mausoleums labeled honest millionaires who were directors in corporations whose methods would bring blushes to the cheek of a confidence man. According to the standard of old-fashioned honesty, there was nothing to be said against these honest millionaires. But from the point of view of the new social honesty they robbed legally.

We are doing the best we can to shape up laws which shall express a new social conscience.

Morality is always a generation or two ahead of legality.

The number of offenses against the moral and legal codes is increasing enormously.

Moral principle never cut so large a figure in the affairs of this American people as it does now.

Our godly ancestors had one moral equal where we have twenty.

It never occurred to them that a lottery was wrong, or that it was wicked to drink rum, or to whip a child or a wife, or to enslave the black man and cheat and debauch the red man.

Nine out of ten of the little conscientious niceties of life are discoveries of the last 50 years. More societies to do all sorts of good and work all kinds of reforms were created in the last two generations than had been formed or thought of before from the beginning of the world.

We are trying to improve the old science of individual honesty. We are developing the altogether new science of social honesty.—Cincinnati Post.

To Recover Battle Flags.

Washington, June 26.—The Senate concurred in the House joint resolution directing the Secretary of War to deliver to the Confederate Memorial Library Society, of Richmond, Va., all the Confederate battle flags now in the custody of the War Department, which it has been found impossible after thorough investigation to trace to former ownership of the troops of any particular State. All of the battle flags that could be identified as having been borne by the troops of any State have been returned to the Governor of that State, but there still remain in the custody of the War Department 452 flags of these flags, 164 are Union and 288 Confederate.

The Senate passed a bill authorizing the Borderland Coal company to construct a bridge across the Tug branch of the Big Sandy river, where it forms the boundary between Kentucky and West Virginia.

The Squire and the Governor.

When it comes to enforcing old laws Magistrate Frank Hoffman has a notion or two of his own, and where his ideas run counter to those of the Governor he blithely pitches all regard for executive authority over his shoulder and goes on about his business. He proclaims that all the alleged offenders look alike nor will he take a hint even though it be handed at him from the State Capitol which goes to show that justice in his court is not only blind as a bat, but stone deaf.

"I'll fan them all to the limit," says the Squire grimly, meaning, of course, choir boys, cooks, coachmen, etc., who may happen to be caught in the act of desecrating the Sabbath. This anticipatory judgment, delivered days in advance of any hearing, goes several better than the Magistrate of tradition, who, after listening to the pro or in a case, remarked that "he would take it under advisement until next Wednesday when he would decide for the plaintiff."

Furthermore his idea of giving them all the limit does not, in his zeal for a tight lid, admit of the possibility of degrees of guilt which might in some courts make a difference as to the amount of penalty imposed.

Squire Hoffman and his Constable solemnly and mysteriously intimated that between now and the time the cases are called for trial they will be preparing themselves to "get around" the Governor's pardon which may be issued to some of those he has apparently already convicted. Stripped of any special interest the affair might hold here a legal question worth while. It's not often that we have one of the cog wheels in our judicial machinery just off hand and of its own motion proposing to beat the chief executive officer of his most important prerogative. The way he's going to turn the trick is so far a closely guarded secret, but he has evidently made up his mind that he's going to make the Governor sorry he ever monkeyed with him.

"I can issue warrants as fast as he can issue pardons," says the Squire, throwing down the gauntlet for a sort of a justice versus mercy speed contest. Ordinarily at pardoning, the Governor isn't rated as being much faster than molasses in cold weather, but he might be able to make some exceptional effort in this instance. Though there's no public dope on Squire Hoffman's warrant-issuing abilities, there's every reason to believe he would give a first-class account of himself in such a match.—Louisville Times.

DON'T CROSS YOUR LEGS

And You Will Not Be Attacked by Appendicitis.

"The prevalence of appendicitis is an admitted fact," said a surgeon. "I have myself operated on 719 persons for the disease. Crossing the legs is responsible for a good deal of this trouble."

"That sounds strange, doesn't it? Nevertheless it is a theory advocated by more than one great surgeon. Indeed, I know some men who say that if people never crossed their legs appendicitis would quite disappear. You see, crossing the legs squeezes and cramps the delicate vermiform appendix. Squeezed and cramped the appendix becomes irritated, inflammation sets in. Intense pain comes. Then—presento—you are on your back, the sweet and heavy fumes of chloroform are choking you, and the appendicitis specialist bends over you with a sharp knife."

Saloons Wrecked and Liquors Poured into the Streets.

Kansas City, June 28.—The anti-saloon crusade at Kansas City, Kansas, was renewed today with increased vigor. In addition to destroying stocks of liquors and bar fixtures, C. W. Trickett, Assistant Attorney General, appointed by Gov. Hoch to enforce the prohibition law, threatened to demolish saloon buildings if their owners persist in renting their places to joint keepers. Many of these buildings are owned by brewing companies.

Attorney General Trickett sent the following warnings to property owners: "This is to notify you that if you permit said premises to be again used for the sale of intoxicating liquors, so as to make necessary the issuance of a second writ of abatement, I shall order the premises so demolished that no third trip will be necessary and in addition will cite you for contempt of court in aiding and assisting in violating the order of the court."

There are about one hundred saloons in Kansas City, Kansas, about fifty of which have been closed. The liquors and fixtures in fifteen of these have been seized by county officials and they continue to spill liquor and break up costly bars.

(These saloon men are presently violating the laws of the State. They are getting the penalty of the law. Kansas is to be congratulated in having men who execute the laws instead of winking at violations of law. If saloonists observe the law they should be protected, if they violate, arrest and conviction should follow.—[Editor.]

We Have Seen the Gorge Where A Bridge Half A Mile High Will Be Built.

"Colorado will possess, within a few months, the highest bridge in the world over the deepest chasm in the Rocky Mountains."

"This bridge is being constructed over the far-famed Royal Gorge of the Arkansas river; and the Royal Gorge is the narrowest point in the also phenomenally famous scenic Grand Cañon of the same stream—the great gate, as it were, through which the Arkansas river empties its enormous accretions of water, very soon after the same have been gathered from the melting snows, 150 miles above, in the vicinity of Leadville, onto the plain once known as 'The Great American Desert.'"

"At the point in the Royal Gorge where the bridge is to be stretched, the abyssal rent in the earth's crust is but 50 feet wide at bottom and 230 feet wide at the top. The walls rise perpendicular for a distance of 2,660 feet, and are granite, decomposed and iron stained until the colorings blend into innumerable pleasing effects upon the senses."

The bridge will be built of steel and glass."

The junior editor of the Advocate has passed through this gorge on three trips to California. On one trip a cloudburst occurred in this gorge and our train was delayed for 48 hours. For 24 hours the passengers could not reach a hotel as the train could neither go forward nor back out. In one place riders on each side of cliff support a bridge over the river, so narrow is the channel.

The fact that the packers exported this year $50,000,000 worth of lard gives at least a little encouragement to the hope that the father and son who fell into the rendering vat were not served up for home consumption.

It cost the Government $100,000 to extradite Green and Caynor and bring them to trial. Of this sum $25,500 is to be paid to foreign Consuls.

PARTNERSHIP DISSOLVED.

Brewers Tired of Saloon Keepers

The United States Brewers' Association, which has just closed its annual convention at Indianapolis, has reiterated its determination to put the brewing industry upon a higher plane. The following resolutions were adopted:

"Resolved, That this convention heartily congratulates the many brewing associations in States and cities that have taken the lead in eradicating low and vile resorts and in refusing to supply beer to saloons that were not approved by the public sentiment of their respective communities.

"Resolved, That all our members continue in this wise policy, so that the American public may be the more quickly taught that American beer is a promoter of genuine temperance, a beverage for the home and friends.

"Resolved, That the immense increase in the consumption of American beer has done more to establish sobriety than all the prohibitory laws in existence."

During the convention the interesting fact was brought out that the Texas brewers have for two years spent $100,000 each month in closing vice saloons and low dives. The association has the best legal talent to be found, a corps of trained detectives and secures its own evidence against saloon keepers who do not run orderly places. It is stated that the detectives of the Texas brewers close three times as many saloons as the police officials.

Against Disorderly Saloons.

"As the National Liquor Dealers' Association, recently in session in this city, as well as the brewers, have declared against the disorderly saloon, it is only a question of time when one who conducts them will be out of business. The License Board has decided that it will be more strict than ever this year in granting licenses, and will require owners of saloons to show good moral character, as the law requires.—Louisville Times

It looks like the saloon business is doomed. With it will go the politicians who think more of booze and booters than of sobriety and men who stand for the protection of home.

Are You Going to Niagara

J. D. Wyatt, well known here, who has had much experience, will personally conduct an excursion from Winchester through Canada and to Niagara Falls. The train will leave Winchester Saturday morning, July 28. The trip will include three full days at Niagara, one day at Detroit, a steamer ride full length of Lake Erie from Buffalo, N. Y., to Detroit. A lady chaperone will accompany the party.

$25.00

will pay all expenses from Mt. Sterling, including railroad fare, hotel bills, sleeping car, berth on steamer, ride through the Niagara reservation, and other necessary expenses; also service of a first class physician in case of sickness. Passengers will buy regular excursion tickets at Winchester and pay to Mr. Wyatt balance of expense on train.

Think about this trip, plan to go. For further particulars call on Miss Florence Wyatt, of Mt. Sterling, or write to J. D. Wyatt, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Because the most inspection amendment to the Agricultural Appropriation bill was not sent to conference by the Senate on June 22, Senator Beveridge cabled to Paris, France, canceling his engagement to speak there July 4 before the American Chamber of Commerce.

When Peace Took Wings.

Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Smith had been talking over the back fence in the sweetest tones imaginable. Finally the conversation turned to spring hats.

"And what do you think of my new hat?" asked Mrs. Jones, as she reared the saucer of custard on the fence.

"It is very pretty," hesitated Mrs. Smith, "but—but—"

"Well," interrupted Mrs. Jones, "but what?"

"Why—I think the shade of one of the feathers altogether too light, and—"

"Never mind further criticisms. You are envious. You are jealous because your husband don't buy you an expensive hat. Why I wouldn't wear your old coal scuttle in a cat fight. Take your custard and never speak to me again as long as you live."

And to a chorus of slamming doors they disappeared.

What Has Hopkins Done?

Representative Hopkins' bill to allow parties named in the bill to construct a bridge across Kentucky river at Russellville was passed on June 26.

He has secured a $15,000 public building at Winchester.

He urges Congress to amend the Interstate Commerce laws so as to prevent shipment of whiskey into local option districts.

If our citizens will do something we can help us.

He has learned how to do things. He has kept sober. He attends to business.

There is more than the usual strong Southern flavor to Bob Taylor's Magazine for July. The frontispiece is a photograph of a typical Tennessee mountaineer. The first paragraph of editorial matter touches on the humorous side of politics. Historical articles are: Mecklenburg Monument, The Old State Capitol of Virginia, "The General" and the Confederate Ration, and Willie Bout, Third Governor of Tennessee. "The Tempered Wind," a negro sermon by John Marshall Kelly, is a nice piece of dialect work.

Killing in Saloon in Paris.

At Paris, Ky., on June 26, Julius Throckmorton, son of Charles Throckmorton, who is in the Revenue Service at Paris, shot and killed Auddy Green in Wood's saloon. It is said both young men were drinking.

Old story repeated. Citizens license saloons, men are transformed into drunkards who murder or kill. State and county are taxed to defray expenses. Yes, that is business.

Not Men.

"I notice your sign reads: 'Department for Maies' and 'Department for Females,'" said the swell tailor's friend. "Why not simply 'Men' and 'Women'?" "But we want to include all," replied the precise tailor. "Some of our customers, you know are dudes."—Philadelphia Press.

Secretaries of Loan Companies Convicted of Embezzling Funds.

At Patterson, N. J., three former secretaries of building and loan associations were sentenced to serve one year each in prison on charges of embezzlement.

Local Option Election.

A petition, signed by 1,500 voters asking for an election to determine whether or not Washington county and Springfield shall have saloons, has been filed and the election ordered held on August 25.

State Association of

Kentucky Baptists

At Richmond, Ky., Recently
Entertained—The Best
Meeting in the History of the Association

On last Monday, June 25, Kentucky Baptists began assembling at Richmond, Ky., and before the meeting had closed about 600 members representing more than 225,000 Kentucky Baptists, had been enrolled and assigned to houses. Every person thought, at least, that in the way they expressed themselves. They had the best time.

We were assigned to the home of Mr. L. T. Covington. Ours was the most delightful home. In our home was a beautiful, bright, sweet little babe—Fatherine and three other daughters, lovely characters, and as for Mr. Covington and his dear wife the good Lord has never made better.
Nothing had occurred to mar their joy except the taking away of their only boy by death, and sometimes we can but think God knew best, for while the loved ones can no longer look on his beautiful form or hear the sweet voice he is a far better state. He never knows anything of sin and with the blessed Jesus he is in a word to hold in those of earth and draw them to God and to him.

Pastor Shepherd (George), as we over here know him) has reasonably congratulated himself and his for the part they had in making the delegates comfortable and happy.

Monday was ministers' meeting which was largely attended and profitable.

Tuesday the Kentucky Baptist Educational Society met. It was a glad day. Perfect harmony prevailed and all Baptists anxieties were enrolled as members.

4,000 acres of coal lands were given for the furtherance of educational work, valued at from $100,000 to a half million and the Baptist Northeast of Kentucky stand pledged to augment this gift with $400,000 and in this it is expected at least $2,000,000 of foreign capital will be added.

In the discussion of the subject
it became apparent that Lexington would get $3,000,000 and Louisville $6,000,000 for educational purpose. Good for Kentucky.

The Association proper convened on Wednesday with Dr. T. T.
Katon Moderator and J. K. Nun-nally Clerk. They were re-elected.
The following showing was made for work done during the past year

MINISTERS

Amount of money received and disbursed

For State Work $10,000.21

For Sunday School and Colportage 3,000.56

Foreign Missions 25,000.36

Home Missions 15,921.98

Church Building Fund 1,313.04

Miscellaneous 763.25

Total receipts $54,000.78

From these expenditures the results have been satisfactory.

The meeting goes to Mayfield in 1907.

The sermon before the ministers meeting will be delivered by Mr.
J. K. Hobbs, of this city. Great things may be expected from Kentucky Baptists for 1907.

The administrations of the cities of Richmond, Mt. Sterling, Shelbyville, Lexington, Paris, Frankfort, Henderson, Owensboro and Louisville, together with Governor
J. C. W. Beckham were commended for their work for morals and civil righteousness and requested to continue in their efforts in this direction until the "lid had been put on" in every city and town in our glorious commonwealth.

Balances Closed.

Saturday's dispatch says that every saloon in Kansas City, Kansas was closed and that at club houses of Elks and Eagles no liquor was sold. See account elsewhere. No much for having officers who are willing to do their duty in seeing that the laws are executed. During the night bar fixtures and liquors were removed across the river to Kansas City, Mo. The whiskey sellers are on the jump.

LAND STOCK AND CROP

Don't forget to look at Nunnally's residence property before the day advertised for sale.

Mr. Mollie C. Ramsey sold her farm of 110 acres near Winchester at $100 per acre cash.

The wheat crops in most parts is now ready for the thrasher and the yields and quality is thought will be far ahead of the average.

In Berdon country the blue grass seed crop is the smallest in recent years. There is practically no market for the crop, as dealers are as soon as to what price to offer.

With an estimated yield for the entire blue grass section of Kentucky of only 275,000 bushels only about one-fourth of a crop one would suppose that a high price would prevail, but dealers are apprehensive for fear that Winchester parties will control the supply of old seed might force the price for the new crop to a point below what they might consider warranted from the scarcity of seed and are therefore awaiting developments.

HOMES TO BE SOLD AT AUCTION.

Having moved to Louisville I have determined to sell my property in Mt. Sterling to the highest bidder at auction.

I SAY THEY WILL BE SOLD AND I MEAN IT

So don't miss the bargains and say "I didn't know you really meant to sell." The sale will take place at the Court House door.

Saturday, July 14, 1906.

At 3 p. m. Prospective purchasers can examine the property any time before that hour.

No. 1 is the modern 7-room, 2-story, frame building, with hall, store rooms, bath rooms, porches, verandas, etc.—very convenient. Built 4 years. Cistern, garden, new stable. Lot 60x250.

No. 2 is my elegant home place, the most modern in Mt. Sterling. The best piece of frame work I ever saw built. Has 10 rooms. Halls, baths, laundry rooms, porches and verandas. Hot and cold water on each floor. Hot water heating plant and water system that cost near $1,000. Nearly every kind of fruit. Extra large stable, large garden and very large cistern—in fact every one says this is the most ideally arranged home in Mt. Sterling. Has been built 5 years. Lot 100x250.

No. 3 is a beautiful lot 60x250, lying just east of the home place and is second to none for beauty.

All of the above property is situated on the South side of Holt avenue, Mt. Sterling, Ky., and join one to the other. A perpetual alley runs back of each of them.

Possession will be given of Nos. 1 and 3 at once; of No. 2 September 1st, 1906. TERMS: One-half cash, one-half in 12 months with 6 per cent with purchase lien.

W. R. Nunnelle.

J. C. or W. H. Wood will show the property.

Elephant's Little Joke.

A big circus elephant has held up a train at E. Belfast, Mich. When the train stopped at the station, the elephant, who was in a truck adjoining the engine, filled his trunk with water from the engine tank, and deluged the driver and stoker, driving them from the engine cab, and when they tried to return he repeated his tactics. A man on the platform was enjoying the joke until the animal turned his attention to him, and gave him a trunkful, knocking him off the platform, whence he rolled down an embankment and received injuries which terminated fatally. The elephant remained master of the situation until he had drained the

Don't Kill the Hawk.
Man has sinned more than any other animal in cliding with nature's balance. Clover crops and the killing of hawks are apparently unrelated, yet the hawk eat the field mice, the field mice prey on the immature bees, and the bees fertilize the clover blossoms. The death of a hawk means an overincrease of field mice, and a consequent destruction of the bees.—Country Life in America.

WOMEN GROWING TALLER.

The Average Height Said to Have Increased an Inch in Last Decade.

The latest statistics relating to the human frame show that the average height of the American woman has increased one inch in the last decade, while the man has not gained a fraction of an inch; in fact, has lost a fraction, says an exchange. There is food for thought in these figures, yet it will not do to get hysterical about them, as some sensational newspapers have done. There is no reason to aver that the future woman will be a giantess and her consort a pigmy. Rather, the deduction may be made that the woman is gradually losing her frailness and is approaching somewhat the virile strength and stature of the man. This is hailed as a consummation devoutly to be wished, because it will make for a future strong and vigorous race.

A century ago the woman of slight frame, petite and short, was the normal type. A large woman was looked upon as abnormal and masculine. In the last two decades woman has come into her own. She has won recognition from educationalists; she has left the boudoir for the shop, store and office, thus competing actively with men in the arduous cares of daily business; she has been forced to develop her frame and strength because of this active competition. We see in the result of this so-called emancipation of women a larger, stronger and braver woman.

The normal woman a decade ago was five feet five inches tall. She has added an inch and probably will add another in another decade or generation. Then she will arrive at the average man's height. The craze for athletics on the part of boys and girls will tend to enlarge the frame, even if it does restrict the amount of knowledge. The frame of the girl is even more susceptible to the enlarging influence of exercise than that of the boy, by reason of centuries of repression.

AFRICAN PLAGUE OF TIGERS

Good Chance for Hunters of Big Game in the Irrawaddy Valley.

The British shikari need not leave his battery idle, even if big game in Africa has become too scarce to be worth the cost of pursuit. He has only to turn his footsteps to the Irrawaddy valley to secure quite an amplitude of that most heroic of all field sports, tiger shooting.

For some reason or other, say the London Globe, Mr. Stripes has begun to colonize that locality on quite an extensive scale, even invading villages at night and taking heavy toll of their inhabitants. The natives, much to their credit, offer all the resistance in their power, but, wretchedly armed as they are, the intruder takes little harm from their fusillades. Here, then, is an excellent opportunity for the well-endowed British sportsman.

Burma is more accessible than the African interior, and also a far pleasanter and healthier country to knock about in. And who will deny that tiger shooting affords more exciting sport than potting wild elephants or hippopotami? Those who pursue on foot the great cat carry their lives in their hands every moment, while even from elephant back or from a "chuchan"—a platform constructed in a big tree—there is always the possibility of a combat at close quarters.

The strongest argument for the intervention of the British Nimrod is the humanitarian; it rests with him and with him alone to save the lives of hundreds of innocents.

T. F. Rogers will bond you.

Court Day in Paris was the duller ever known. The attendance was very small and scarce.

The Senate passed a bill authorizing the Borderland Coal company to construct a bridge across the Tug branch of the Big Sandy river, where it forms the boundary between Kentucky and West Virginia.

THE EYE OF A FISH.

Seen as Viewed by Finny Tribe Investigated by University Professor.

That a fish in an aquarium has an entirely different view of the external world than we whose vision is unimpaired by glass or water is a thought that perhaps has come to but few. One of these few, states the Baltimore American, is Prof. Robert W. Wood, of Johns Hopkins University, who has succeeded in obtaining photographs of Mount Vernon place and a view looking west down Monument and north and south down Eastward streets, as they would appear to a fish submerged near those localities.

As is well known, an eye below the surface of the water sees the sky compressed into a comparatively small circle of light, the center of which is always immediately above the observer, the appearances being as if the pond were covered with an opaque roof with a circular window cut in it. The objects surrounding the pond, such as trees, houses or people, must appear around the rim of the circle of light, but the human being is unable to get a clear notion of their appearance, since his eyes are not adapted to distinct vision under water.

Reasoning from this fact, it occurred to Mr. Wood that a very good notion of how those things appear to the fish would be obtained by immersing a camera in water and photographing the circle of light. His apparatus was constructed out of a hard pail, a short focus lens provided with a very small diaphragm being cemented over a hole perforated in a metal disk which rested on a rim soldered around the inside of the pail. The plate was placed on the bottom of the pail and the whole filled with clean water in a dark room. The lens was covered by a metal cap, operated by a handle on the outside of the pail. The apparatus was set on the ground and surface of the water covered with a sheet of glass to prevent ripples, the pail being so fast that the glass was in contact with the water. This arrangement obviated the necessity of immersing the affair in a pond, since the function of the latter was performed by the water in the pail above the lens.

A number of interesting pictures were taken, among them being Mount Vernon place as it would appear to a fish submerged in a pond near the base of the lion. The monument is plainly shown and the adjacent buildings can be plainly made out around the rim of the circle of light.

DISPOSING OF OLD SHIPS.

Immense Tonnage Cleared off by British Owners in Sales to Foreigners.

The extent to which British shipowners dispose of old vessels to foreigners is shown in statistical tables published in Lloyd's Register of Shipping. The tonnage cleared off in this way last year was 512,701 tons, comprising steamships of 422,395 tons and sailing vessels amounting to 90,306 tons. By these sales, which are the largest since 1900, Germany acquired 101,503 tons; Italy, 78,671 tons; Japan, 66,328 tons, and Norway, 52,702 tons. It must be a very considerable advantage, from a British point of view, to have a market like this for our "second-hand" vessels. Tables which are included in the register general's returns indicate that about 18 per cent of the tonnage removed from the register because of foreign transfer was built before 1880, nearly 43 per cent, before 1885, 62 per cent before 1890, 78 per cent before 1895, and over 90.6 per cent before 1900. In addition to the second-hand tonnage transferred to foreigners, 52,464 tons were transferred to British colonies during 1905, as compared with 37,464 tons in 1904, 62,907 tons in 1903, and 32,603 tons in 1902.

A Wonderful Record.

As made up by improved and exact Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the most efficient remedy for treating all the womanly functions, corrects the secretions, as glands, and restores, and overcomes painful menses, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. It cures the backache, periodical headaches, the dragging-down distress in the pelvic region, the pain and tenderness over the abdominal region, drives up the pelvic catarrhal drain, so disagreeable and weakening, and overcomes every form of weakness incident to the organs exclusively feminine.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, the makers of which are not afraid to print their formula on the bottle wrapper, thus taking their patrons into their full confidence. It is the only medicine for women, every ingredient of which has the strongest possible sanction to the most eminent medical practitioners and writers of our day, recommending it for the diseases for which "Favorite Prescription" is used. It is the only safe medicine for women, sold through druggists, which does not contain a large percentage of alcohol, so harmful in the long run, especially to delicate women. It has more genuine cures to its credit than any other medicine for women combined, having saved thousands of women from the operating table and the surgeon's knife. It has restored delicate weak women to vigor and vigorous health and vitality, making motherhood possible, where there was barrenness before, thereby brightening and making happy many thousands of homes by the aid of this medicine, strengthening the marital bonds and adding to the domestic peace and contentment and freedom from care and despondency and sickness before.

Write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, He will send you free, fully illustrated advice, in a plain, sealed envelope, absolutely free. Address him at Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets do not grip. They effectively cleanse the system of accumulated impurities. The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, by Dr. Pierce, M.D., is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 25-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 51 stamps for the cloth bound volume. Address as above.

CAMEOS DIFFICULT TO CUT

Agates from Which They Are Carved Are Exceedingly Hard.

Cameos are cut from the stones onyx and sardonyx, which are said to be so plentiful on the Uruguay river in Brazil that ships often carry them away as ballast. Nevertheless, perfect pieces of large size are costly. A piece suitable for a large portrait costs about $75. This stone is preferred for cameos because of its hardness and durability and is suitable for such work owing to the fact that it comes in layers of contrasting colors as black and white, black and cream, or red and white. When the cut figure is sunk into the stone instead of being raised the setting is called an intaglio. The cost of these gems is due to the time and skill required in the work. Formerly a small gem might occupy an artist for a year or more, but with modern appliances the work can be done more rapidly. Still the ancient work hours the pain for artistic excellence. The cutting is now done by holding the stone against a revolving drill, whose soft steel face is covered with diamond dust. No stone is hard enough to cut the stone. The utmost patience and caution and delicate handling are required, as the slightest slip may spoil the work.

Travels of Vesuvius Dust.

The volcanic dust thrown up by Vesuvius has been traced, in nearly all the countries of Europe. The latest report from the south on April 14 and 15, collected from his own veranda, no doubt specimens of yellowish volcanic ash. Microscopic examination revealed the presence of leucite, aegirine and magnetite from. The presence of leucite and the complete absence of quartz, which lies spread over the whole of northern Germany, excludes all doubt as to the origin of the dust.

Recitations by Phonograph.

Since the beginning of the year a phonograph has been used in the theological faculty of the University of Vienna. Prof. Sechoba, the head of the faculty, has noticed that while reciting the students always made the same mistakes. It then struck him that by means of a phonograph their mistakes might be demonstrated to them in a striking manner. The results exceeded all expectations.

Due to Salt.

It is not generally known that salt has determined, to a considerable extent, the distribution of man. He was forced to settle where he could obtain it. This brought him to the seashore, and started maritime commerce. Again, preservation of food by salt made long voyages possible, and opened up the world to civilization.

Always Cool.

It is not hard to make a man cool in summer. The coolness of the tree itself helps, for its temperature is about 45 degrees Fahrenheit at all times, whereas that of the human body is a fraction more than 98 degrees. A clump of trees cools the air as a pitcher of ice cools the water in a pitcher.

Strangers Registered.

Every stranger who enters the White House at Washington is counted by an automatic register. The instrument is held in the hand of one of the watchmen stationed at the door, and every visitor's arrival is recorded for official purposes.

Insects as Voyagers.

Among the things that furnish occupation for the eyes and minds of transatlantic voyagers are the houseflies which accompany the great steamships from one side of the ocean to the other. In fine weather the flies buzz cheerfully about the sheltered places on the decks, and when the wind blows high they take refuge in the cabins and saloons. The flies often remain with the ship while in port, and return with her on her next trip, thus crossing the ocean several times in succession, and perhaps spending the entire season at sea.

$5,000 Reward

will be paid to any person who can find one atom of opium, chloral, morphine, cocaine, ether or chloroform or their derivatives in any of Dr. Miles' Remedies.

This reward is offered because certain unscrupulous persons make false statements about these remedies. It is understood that this reward applies only to goods purchased in the open market, which have not been tampered with.

Dr. Miles' remedies cure by their strengthening and invigorating effect upon the nervous system, and not by weakening the nerves.

"I consider that there are no better remedies put up than Dr. Miles' Nerve, Anti-Pain Pills, and Nerve Liver Pills, and recommend them to many others. My wife is cured of Nerve, and considers it the best medicine in the world. A lady friend of mine, who was almost a total nervous wreck, through my earnest solicitation has used several bottles of the Nerve and wonderful results." WM. CHROME, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first package will benefit. If it does, he will return your money. 25 doses, 25 cents. Never sold in bulk. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

BACHELOR GIRL'S BUTTONS

Desperate Measures Resorted To by One to Get Release from Dinner Gown.

The present style of fashioning women's dresses down the back, although pretty and very becoming to the fair wearers, has decided disadvantages. Comparatively few women have maids, and many are the sole representatives of their sex in their own households.

Nowadays exclusively feminine convocations are wont to exchange curious tales relating the shifts to which lone woman must resort in order to get in and out of her clothes. Even their best young men, provided they were already proved trustworthy and discreet, have been pressed into service by enterprising girls, who, faring home from some evening festivity, and foreseeing battle and defeat awaiting them, have permitted their escorts respectfully to undo the central—always the most obstinate—button in the back of the bodice.

Even more desperate measures were resorted to by a bachelor maid who, after a recent social occasion, having returned to her bachelor flat after wearing with much satisfaction a brand new dinner gown, discovered to her dismay when she endeavored to undo its posterior fastenings that one or two of them positively refused to unfasten. The bachelor girl lived alone; there was no janitor, and her sole maid had left in a huff the previous day. What to do? She could not go to her bed in her best gown, and it looked as if she would have to sit up all night.

After some moments of horrible reflection the distressed woman resolved to brave the terrors of the street and accost the first feminine wayfarer. She therefore let herself out and interrogated the midnight horizon for a sail. At that moment a passing car stopped and a couple alighted. The too firmly buttoned-up woman approached the pair and, with a humble apology, preferred her request. An irrepressible grunt was heard to issue from the otherwise silent lips of the man—the grunt of one who had acquired the experience a cynical disdain of feminine follies—the grunt of one who had served his time in doing and undoing recalcitrant bodices.

The woman, however, waved aside all apologies and granted the request with a ready warmth and hospitality that indicated past sufferings of a similar nature, and the bachelor maid, with a light heart and an open bodice, was enabled to return to her home and bed.

Balloon Trials for the Jaded.

Dr. George Hall, an eminent eye specialist, agrees with Dr. Dunlay in thinking that many diseases of the eye may be relieved by treatment in balloons at heights of 3,000 to 5,000 feet. In an interview Dr. Hall suggested that the "balloon cure" might be popularized. "I would recommend," he said, "the institution of captive balloons outside all theaters and art galleries. Nothing could be better for the head ache brought on by the atmosphere of a theater or for the strain on the eyeball by much picture gazing than an ascent of, say, 3,000 feet."

WHY WE DO SOME THINGS

It is Certainly Not Because We Appear to Advantage When Doing Them.

A man does not take off his hat to a lady because he looks nicer without it, declares Gilbert Chesterton, in the Illustrated London News. The instance of bald men would be alone sufficient to upset such an explanation.

He does it because you must positively do something when you meet a lady or your whole civilization goes to pieces; and taking off your hat is easier than taking off your necktie or lying face downward on the pavement.

The primary point is that you must do something, not that you must do something beautiful. And as long as cultivated people cannot grasp this fact they will find their efforts quite futile in dealing with what they often consider the dullness of the middle classes, or the vulgarity and morbidity of the poor.

In so far as the bourgeois thinks it more important to wear a Sunday hat than a becoming hat, he is perfectly right. It is more important; the religion of the tribe is more important than the pretty appearance of Mr. Jones.

In so far as the charwoman thinks it more important that her husband should have a "proper" funeral than a pretty funeral, she is perfectly right. It is more important; decorum is as permanent a human sentiment as art, and a much more pressing one. Any healthily savage would understand the charwoman's sentiment exactly, and perhaps alarm her with demonstrations of barbaric approval.

He would also understand perfectly the sentiment of a Sunday hat. I believe in savages myself; I think that in a great many matters they represent the enduring common sense and moral minimum of humanity. There is nothing which I so sincerely respect in savages as their widespread and generally accented disposition to wear top hats.

SPRINGING ETERNAL.

Percy—When does your sister Minnie expect to get married?

Little Sister—Every summer.

Bombarded Farmer.

An Algerian farmer defied the police and hurricaded his farmyard. Several rifle volleys were fired at his place in the hope of terrifying him. As this apparently had no effect, a three-inch quick-firing field gun and melle shell were brought into use. In all 18 bombs were fired. The first two flew wide, but the other 16 reduced all the farm buildings to heaps of rubbish, under which, when search was made, the farmer's body was found. He had evidently been killed by a rifle bullet on the preceding day, so that all the terrors of artillery and melle had been wasted on a corpse. It is perhaps the first time that the police have tried heavy artillery on one lone man.

Warrants Issued For Arrest of Allen Bros. Saloonists Charged With Gambling.

On Saturday Breck Goodpaster went before County Attorney, C. F. Thomas and made affidavit charging Allen Bros. Saloonists with suffering gaming on their premises on that day, and giving a number of witnesses.

The warrant was prepared by C. F. Thomas, signed by Esq. C. G. Thompson and given to the Sheriff and same was executed by Richardson and Crooks deputy sheriffs. The case is set for trial on Tuesday, July 10.

When the officers went to the premises there were indications that the room had been hastily abandoned.

Privately in the presence of several whose names are known, Goodpaster said that for some time gambling had been carried on at Allen Bros. place of business and that on one occasion previous to Saturday while a game was in progress and in his presence a number of the city police force came in and informed the proprietors that they had better close up as something was going to be done. When the Hair Falls

Then it's time to act! No time to study, to read, to experiment! You want to save your hair, and save it quickly, too! So make up your mind this very minute that if your hair ever comes out you will use Ayer's Hair Vigor. It makes the scalp healthy. The hair stays in. It cannot do anything else. It's nature's way. The best kind of a testimonial. "Sold for over sixty years."

LIVES OF FISHES SAVED.

Taken from Sloughs Formed by Overflow of Illinois and Mississippi Rivers.

The rescue of fishes from the sloughs formed by the overflow of the Illinois and Mississippi rivers has been in the last year conducted by the bureau of fisheries on a larger scale than heretofore, according to the New York Tribune. These sloughs, says the commissioner, become entirely dry in summer or, with the high temperature of the water, fill with a rank growth of vegetation which smothers the fish. In winter they freeze. Thus the fish in them must perish unless removed, and the work of the bureau consists in sealing these overflowed places and transferring the fish to suitable waters. Millions of fish have thus been rescued and returned to the rivers, and large numbers are retained for distribution by the car and messenger service to applicants all over the country, these sloughs being one of the chief sources of supply for large mouth bass, crappie and sunfish.

In September, 1904, a crew of the employees of the Bellico, La. station engaged in rescuing food and game fishes from the overflowed islands adjoining the Mississippi in Jo Daviess county, Illinois, were set upon by the sheriff of that county, subjected to many indignities and imprisoned over night in wet clothes. The alleged ground for this arrest was violation of the state law, although, as a matter of fact, the bureau was operating in strict accordance with the law, and this was well known to the sheriff. As Jo Daviess county, which extends for about 35 miles along the river in the vicinity of Dubuque, Ia., comprises a long stretch of low islands, swamps, etc., on which are hundreds of shallow lakes and ponds made by the overflow water from the Mississippi river, it is the best field on the upper Mississippi for the bureau's work, and on account of this fact the special collecting station was established at Bellico some years ago. There are not many overflow lakes on the Iowa side of the river within easy reach of the station, and if the bureau is prevented from taking fish from the Illinois side the work will be seriously crippled in future and will probably have to be abandoned.

Cock Fighting Among the Greeks. The sport of cock fighting seems to have originated with Thiomistides of Greece. When he was leading an army against the Persians he noted two cocks in a desperate battle.

To stimulate the courage of his soldiers, he pointed out the bravery of birds, and having won his battle with the Persians, he ordered that an annual cock fight should be held to celebrate his victory.

In England the records show that the first cock fight took place in 1191.

One Little Prisoner.

In the island of Sark the most serious offenses are trespassing and leaving gates unlocked. For the result is that often the cattle get to the cliffs and fall into the sea. There are 400 inhabitants and one prison, but it never had but one prisoner, a small girl, who had stolen a handkerchief, and she subsided so loudly that they let her out.

Dying of Old Age.

The Alhambra, the famous palace of Granada, is falling into ruin. The ancient home of Spain's Moorish kings, founded in 1273, has withstood both earthquakes and fire. The French soldiers blew up eight of its towers, and tried to level the entire fabric. It is the great age of the building which is threatening it with destruction now.

BIRD NEST ARCHITECTURE.

Interesting Developments in the Construction of a Yellowhammer Home.

A correspondent of the Lewiston Journal writes: From the windows of a Minot farm house have been observed interesting developments in bird nest architecture. Where a branch had been cut from an apple tree was chosen by a yellowhammer for its summer home.

For nearly two weeks the birds have been at work chiseling out a cavity for their purpose. The yellowhammer is among our larger summer migrants and needs a home of generous dimensions in which to rear its young. Since they have made the hole large enough to enter one of the birds disappears inside, and from the opening sprays of fine chips seem to be blown from the bird's bill. Their emphatic staccato notes are not so often heard as when they were nothing. Their choosing a nice new home shows a time regard for sanitation, which the bluebird, for instance, seems to lack.

The grass about the old apple tree is well covered with the new chips, the cavity being about five feet from the ground. The crows who skulk about and raid so many robin's nests will not be able to enter this nest, but alas the red squirrel that runs up and down the wall and is fond of all sorts of mischief—he knows all about what the yellowhammers are doing, and he is the enemy which Mistress Yellowhammer should be watching.

Would Remodel Spelling.

It is the opinion of Nature that a strong man should come forward, and by his influence compel all philologists, the whole world over, to adopt the Lepsius alphabet with two or three tridling changes) as the standard which all persons must adopt in transcribing the languages of the world not already and anciently expressed in Roman letters; nay, more, it is to be hoped, one day that all the civilized tongues of the world—English, French, German, Russian, Greek, Arabic, and every other speech with a literature—may be written down in one form of lettering, and according to one standard—and perhaps the Lepsius) of expressing sounds by letters."

Woman Had Basket of Wolves.

Mrs. M. Henderson, who lives four miles southwest of Bush City, was in town today with six young wolves which she and her husband captured yesterday on their farm, says the Garrett News.

The wolves were quite young, they did not have their eyes open yet, and one who did not know what they were would have said they were puppies.

There is a bounty of $1 a head on the wolves, so that Mrs. Henderson will receive $6 for the scalps of the six. They made an effort to capture the old wolf, but she could not be found.

Forbidden by Law.

There is an old church in Wisconsin which has no steeple, because of a court mandate forbidding such a construction. In 1862 a severe storm swept over the town, hurling the original spire against the house next door and wrecking it. The owner of the house got an injunction restraining the trustees of the church from building another spire, and this order has held ever since.

Bush Fires in Australia.

The remarkable discovery has been made that many of the recent great bush fires in New South Wales and Victoria were caused by the phosphorus paste laid down to kill rabbits. The paste is laid down by the ton in all the rabbit infested districts. As soon as the mixture dries it catches fire under the heat of the sun's rays and starts disastrous conflagrations.

SEEDS THAT GO TRAVELING

Often Attain Great Elevation and Are Blown to Far Distant Lands.

It was an English astronomer, W. R. Davis, who first discovered the true character of certain objects, floating across the field of the telescope, which had been mistaken for meteorites, says Saturday Evening Post. He made a readjustment of the focus of his instrument for the near point, and found that they were in reality seeds of various plants—such, for example, as the thistle and the dandelion.

Undoubtedly such seeds often attain a great elevation in the atmosphere, and are carried by the winds enormous distances—which is exactly what Nature, anxious for their distribution, wishes. For this and no other purpose the seed of the dandelion is provided with a tiny parachute, by the aid of which it makes aerial voyages, as does that of the milkweed.

It is really wonderful what ingenuity nature exhibits in such matters. The poppy has a sort of pepper-dropper, containing its seeds, which are thrown broadcast when the wind rattles the dry stalk, or when some animal knocks against it. The so-called "shooting cennibers" explodes when ripe, like a bomb, and scatters its seeds far and wide.

Birds, of course, are great distributors of seeds and so like-wise are water currents. But in this line, perhaps, there is nothing more curious than the "sea beans" which people pick up on the Florida beaches. Popular belief assigns to them a marine origin, but in reality they are the seeds of certain pod-bearing vines which grow plentifully along the shores of the Caribbean. They fall into streams, are carried into the ocean, and the gulf stream fetches them into Atlantic waters.

It has been ascertained that many kinds of seeds will bear immersion in water for four months, or even more, and still retain their germinating power, so that when thrown ashore they are ready to sprout.

Japan's Millions.

Recent figures on the population of Japan make the total about 5,000,000 more than that of the British Isles. Tokio has about 1,500,000. Osaka 900,000, and there are 20 other cities with more than 50,000 each. However, in making comparisons it must be remembered that England's sons are scattered throughout her colonies. The British empire the world over now has a population of nearly 400,000,000.

POPPLE STRING SUPPLY.

Tons of Sheep Gut Used Annually in Germany in Their Manufacture.

An investigation of the sources of supply of the materials entering into the manufacture of musical instruments in Germany has revealed the fact that nearly 70,000 pounds of sheep gut are used annually for strings.

Nearly the whole of this quantity is imported from abroad, chiefly from Russia, which furnishes about 64,000 pounds, the rest coming from England, Australia and India. The hope that some managers of great American shirtmakers would care to examine this field for an article that may be more profitably disposed of than at home has led Consular Agent Fiedler, of Markneukirchen, to make inquiries of the local manufacturers. He has been informed by them that English sheep gut, sold by three score and hundredweight, is preferred to all other kinds, and very high prices are paid for it, different grades selling at $3.95, $7.14 and $7.61 per kilogram (2.2046 pounds). The gut of the English sheep is of a fine white color and very durable. In Russia, where the sheep are slaughtered principally on account of their meat, only young animals are killed, whose gut is lighter and softer than that of old sheep.

In South America and Australia the sheep are bred specially on account of their wool. Young sheep are accordingly killed very seldom, and the mature gut is dark. In tropical countries much gut is spoiled because there are too few workmen and the cleaning should be begun as soon as the sheep are killed. Only the strongest gut is salted and exported. In Hamburg and Berlin there are importers of gut who get the salted product from all parts of the world.

Notes.

Having been appointed as instructor for Montgomery county by the Church of Humanity, I will on July 8th, being the anniversary of the church, open a Sunday school class at my greenhouse and invite all as can make it convenient to attend.

EXPLANATION.

The Church of Humanity is non-orthodox in its character. It is the church that seeks the scattered truth in every creed and aims for the good and true of every age and clime. It is eclectic in all its tendencies, it is strictly scientific in its researches and makes it a duty to solve the uncertain allegories of ancient and modern mythologies not in accordance with pure science, it is the church for thinkers, it has no hell to scare, nor devil to coax, in short it is the church that saves by rational education. Those who have the moral courage to think for themselves will find these lessons great tests of mental brain food.

Come, all of you and imbibe freely the prodigious gifts of nature among the fragrance of flowers. Every Sunday at 10:30 a. m.

Drowned At Natural Bridge.

On Friday afternoon the 2-year-old son of Andy McMullins, keeper of the L. & E. Green House, at Natural Bridge, fell into the lake and was drowned. The father supposing that the child had been stolen by some of the excursionists sent telegrams to police at Lexington, Winchester, etc., to be on the lookout for child. At seven o'clock the body was found floating on the lake.

Womans City Rooms.
The officers of this Baptist church have decided to recommend to this congregation that rooms behind the building be repaired and remodeled, to be used by the women for club rooms. Gas will be used for light and fuel. Rooms will also be used for Sunday school purposes, reading room, society meetings, entertainments etc. This feature will doubtless add to church interest and thereby prove a blessing.

DEATHS.

TRIMMER.—Mrs. Susan Tribble died at her home in Richmond on Friday, June 29, 1906. Her son, Shelby, is foreman of the Sentinel Democrat in this city.

SMITH.—Miss Mary A. Smith for many years a resident of this city died on Saturday morning, June 30, 1906, at the home of Fred Bassett. The funeral service was conducted at the home on Monday morning by Rev. H. G. Turner and burial was in Macphail.

COCKRAN.—Mrs. Elizabeth, wife of Wm. Cockran, who lived near Antioch church, died on Sunday, June 23, 1906. The funeral service was by Rev. Dawson on Tuesday and the burial was in churchyard. She was born in Virginia Jan. 31, 1825 and came to Kentucky in 1870. Seven children survive her.

MCDONALD.—Miss Tammy McDonald died at her home in this city on Thursday night, June 28, 1906. The funeral service was conducted at the residence on Saturday morning by Rev. H. G. Turner. She was a member of the Methodist Church, a most lovely woman of Christian spirit, whose presence was a blessing. For over a year she had been an invalid. She leaves two younger sisters, Misses Sallie and Mary at home and a brother, William in Indiana.

REID.—The life work of another good man is finished, his spirit has returned to his Creator. He died at his home in the number 10, love and peace of those whom he loved and of those with whom he came in touch. For months his friends knew that he was soon to leave them. On Friday afternoon, June 29, 1906, at his home near this city J. Davis Reid was called to his home above. He was a native of this (Montgomery) county and was born March 14, 1849. His parents were Henry P. and Elizabeth Reid. He was a graduate from Bethany College in 1879. On April 16, 1888 he was married to Miss Nettie C. Prewitt. In 1892 he formed a partnership with his brother, Richard, for the practice of law. Twice he was elected County Attorney, and in 1884-5 he served his district, Montgomery P. Well, Wolfe and Menefee, as a member of the Legislature. The nominating convention met at Frenchburg. The candidates were H. L. Jones, of this county, and J. H. Williams, of Menefee. Mr. Reid was not present. Without his knowledge he was nominated. He continued in the practice of law for only eight years; then, bought and moved to the farm where he has since lived. His life has been consistent with his profession of faith in Jesus as the Christ. For years he was a deacon in the Mt. Sterling Christian Church, and was then called to the eldership of the congregation and was so honored up to the time of his death. He was well informed in public affairs, wise in counsel, a loving father, a prosperous farmer, a good man, an honorable citizen. This is a rich legacy he leaves to his children. At different times he served as director of three banks in our city. His wife died September 30, 1900. His children who survive him are: J. Coleman Reid, Mrs. Dan Chensault, William H., Miss Carolyn, Walker P., and Henry. Mrs. Chensault lives in Richmond, Ky., and Wm. lives in New York. The funeral service was conducted at his residence on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock by his pastor, Rev. H. D. Clark, and the burial was at Winchester.

Woolfolk-Taul. On Wednesday in Louisville Mr. J. W. Woolfolk, of Lexington, was married to Miss Lena Taul, of our city, daughter of Mrs. J. W. Taul. The groom is a wholesale grocer. The many friends of the bride extend to her best wishes for a happy life.

DERICKSON-MARSHALL. On Wednesday at noon, June 27, 1906, at Ascension Episcopal church in this city Mr. Charles Derickson, of Powell county, a traveling salesman, son of H. T. Derickson, was united in marriage to Miss Mary Boyd Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marshall, of this county. Rev. Arthur Price officiated. Mrs. Jepson presided at the organ. The ushers were Messrs. C. W. Kirkpatrick, J. K. Shorshire, Tandy Chensault, of this city, and Sidney Tucker, of Winchester. The bride was accompanied by her brother Wm. her cousin, Miss Isabelle Marshall, of Lexington, Maid of Honor and the bridesmaids, Misses Fann e Bippin, of this city, and Lucine Crook, of Lexington following. The groom, with his attendant, Mr. Geo. Tomlinson, of Winchester, met the bride at the altar. The bride and groom dined with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Strommen, Jr., and left on 2-10 train.

Notice. Those having fire policies with T. F. Rogers and using Natural Gas must bring them to his office to have permits attached. This is done without cost to assured.

Funeral Directors at Lexington. The sixth annual convention of the Funeral Directors' Association of Kentucky was held at Lexington last week, with about 200 delegates and visitors present.

The date of Children's Day Exercises at Corinth Sunday School has been changed from the 8th to the 22 of July. The hour will be announced later.

Rev H G Turner will preach at the union service on Sunday evening at Christian Church. Rev. J. W. McGarvey Sr. preached at Christian Church on Sunday morning, as the pastor was conducting J. Davis Reid's funeral service.

Rev. G. A. Joplin preached the first union service session on Sunday night at Methodist Church to a large audience. He reviewed some of the great struggles through which the American people had come to such a glorious freedom and told of the conflict now on between the whiskey interests and temperance forces, which will relieve our country, largely from the curse of strong drink.

The Brooks Bros revival at the Christian church closed on Wednesday night and they left for Jasper, Ala., to begin a meeting on Saturday. There were 73 additions—50 by confession and 23 by letter of statement. The evangelists were: J. H. Williams, of Menefee, Ky., and J. H. Williams, of Menefee, Ky., and J. H. Williams, of Menefee, Ky.

Rev. Alexander Deek of Christiansburg Ky. was the guest of Rev. J. B. Mescham and wife last week.
